"So you're telling me that without your angel mojo your sword doesn't look like a sword."

"Correct."

Dean eyed the hilt of the blade suspiciously, wondering exactly how it qualified as a weapon. "It's invisible, then."

"No, Dean, it is not." Castiel did something to the hilt and then with an all-too-familiar sound Castiel's sword had a bright blue blade.

Castiel waved it slightly as he spoke to Dean, but Dean wasn't listening to Cas - not when he knew what it was.

"Dude, angel swords are lightsabers?"
